

PUBLIC CO-APPLICANTS WORKSHOP

Do you need a public co-applicant?

Been invited to be a public co-applicant?

What is a 'public co-applicant'?

MONDAY, DECEMBER 10, 2-4PM

SEMINAR ROOM, HUMANITIES BUILDING, RADCLIFFE OBSERVATORY QUARTER, OXFORD

Following short presentations on the development of the NIHR's 'Guidance on Public co-applicants' so far, there will be facilitated discussion groups to;

- Respond to delegate questions
- Share personal experiences
- Examine good practice examples and how they can inform our practice.

SPEAKERS

Martin Lodemore
Senior Public Involvement Advisor, NIHR INVOLVE

Doreen Tembo,
Senior Research Manager (PPI and External Review), NIHR NETSCC

Martin and Doreen have been leading an NIHR led development of Guidance on Public Co-applicants. They will present the findings from this work, details of the next steps in launching the Guidance and good practice examples in this field.

FACILITATORS

Bernard Gudgin
Public co-applicant, various NIHR organisations

Paul Hewitson
Senior Research Officer, NIHR Research Design Service

Lynne Maddocks, Patient and Public Involvement Coordinator, NIHR CLAHRC Oxford

Who is this workshop for?

PPI Contributors

who are considering being a public co-applicant.

What will they get out of it?

Clarity about the role of a public co-applicant and whether they wish to be involved with this level of responsibility in future projects.

What can they contribute to it?

Experiences they may have had being a public co-applicant already or having been approached, or questions they have that they would want the NIHR Guidance to answer.

Research staff who are considering asking a member of the public to be a co-applicant on their grant.

Clarity about the role and when it is appropriate to include a public co-applicant. Tips on how to work well with a public co-applicant.

Any experiences they have had in working with public co-applicants and questions about this that they would want the NIHR Guidance to answer.

REGISTRATION

Contact Lynne Maddocks at ppi@phc.ox.ac.uk or (01856) 617198 to book. Places are limited and will be allocated on a first come first served basis. There will be a reserve list and travel details will be supplied to all attending.

National Institute for Health Research